THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD
AUGUST A. BUSCH III

On October 30, 1989, August A. Busch III was named chairman of the board of the St. Louis Cardinals, succeeding his father, the late August A. Busch, Jr.

Mr. Busch is also chairman of the board and president of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc., positions he has held since 1979.

Mr. Busch started his career with Anheuser-Busch in 1957 in the malt house. Since that time, he has worked in virtually every department of the brewing and operations divisions at the company.

In 1963, Mr. Busch joined the company's marketing department, working in the field with Anheuser-Busch wholesalers. After returning to St. Louis, he was promoted to assistant sales manager - regional brands and subsequently was named sales manager - regional brands with responsibility for the marketing of Busch beer.

In 1962, Mr. Busch was appointed vice president - marketing operations for Anheuser-Busch, Inc., and was named to the company's board of directors. Successively, he served as general manager, executive vice president and president before being named chairman of the board of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., in 1975.

Under Mr. Busch's leadership, Anheuser-Busch has significantly widened its leadership of the brewing industry while effectively diversifying into non-brewing enterprises. In 1989, the company's beer and other subsidiary operations earned record sales.

Mr. Busch's impact extends well-beyond the Anheuser-Busch Companies. In 1980, he spearheaded a drive to raise funds to build a new facility for the Mathews-Dickey Boys Club of St. Louis, a self-help organization serving the black community.

In 1982, Mr. Busch was named the United States Olympic Committee's "Sportsman of the Year" and was also presented with the City of Hope "Spirit of Life Award." In 1983, he accepted the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund (MALDEF) Award for Corporate Social Responsibility on behalf of the company. Mr. Busch was named St. Louis "Man of the Year" in 1987.

Mr. Busch is president and a member of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America St. Louis Council; a member of Civic Progress, Inc.; chairman of the advisory board of the St. John's Mercy Medical Center and a member of the board of directors for the United Way of Greater St. Louis.

In 1989, Mr. Busch was honored by accepting the 1989 Corporate Responsibility Award presented by the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change, Inc. to Anheuser-Busch.

During a special ceremony at the White House in 1989, Mr. Busch and the company were honored by President George Bush for its commitment to the Hispanic community. Also in 1989, Mr. Busch was named "Man of the Year" by the St. Louis Variety Club.

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER
FRED L. KUHLMANN

Fred L. Kuhlmann was named president and chief executive officer of the St. Louis Cardinals on October 30, 1989. The positions of president and chief executive officer were previously held by the late August. A. Busch, Jr.

Since joining the Cardinals in 1984, Kuhlmann served as executive vice president and chief operating officer. Prior to that, Kuhlmann was executive vice president a and member of the policy committee at Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc., the parent company of the Cardinals.

Kuhlmann's interest in the Cardinals dates to his boyhood, growing up in the vicinity of old Sportsman's Park. That interest in the team intensified when he became an officer at Anheuser-Busch.

A native of St. Louis, Kuhlmann attended public schools prior to entering Washington University, from which he graduated with a law degree. He also received a law degree from Columbia University in New York.

Kuhlmann was a senior partner in a prominent St. Louis law firm prior to joining Anheuser-Busch in 1967 as general counsel. Subsequently, he was promoted to executive vice president, policy committee member and vice chairman of the board of directors of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. Kuhlmann retired from Anheuser-Busch in December, 1983, but still serves as vice chairman of the board of directors and as a consultant to the company.

In addition to his position with the Cardinals, Kuhlmann is chairman of the board of Civic Center Corporation, the Anheuser-Busch Companies subsidiary which owns and operates Busch Stadium and other properties in the downtown St. Louis area. He also serves on the boards of numerous companies and charitable organizations.

Kuhlmann and his wife, Mildred, are the parents of two children, Mrs. Marilyn K. Brickler and F. Mark Kuhlmann.

Prior to joining the Cardinals and Civic Center Corporation, Sauer was vice president of the Busch Entertainment Corporation, another Anheuser-Busch subsidiary which operates themed entertainment parks throughout the country.

Sauer graduated from the University of Illinois in 1968 with a B.S. degree in accounting. He received his M.B.A. from New York's Columbia University in 1971.

In addition to serving as a director of the Cardinals, Sauer is a member of the board of directors of the Busch Entertainment Corporation and is heavily involved in a number of activities for area youth. Sauer and his wife, Georgia, are the parents of two sons, Peter and Alex.

VICE PRESIDENT / GENERAL MANAGER
DAL MAXVILL

Dal Maxvill returned to the St. Louis Cardinals organization as general manager on February 25, 1985, dedicated to the same ideas that guided him as a player on three St. Louis pennant-winning teams in the 60s. Maxvill's primary goal was to produce a winning, exciting team for Cardinal fans.

Maxvill came through for the fans of St. Louis in 1985, just like he had done so many times while playing in the 60s. He oversaw his second pennant-winning club in three seasons during '87 after continually being faced with the task of supplying manager Whitey Herzog with healthy players during the injury-riddled season.

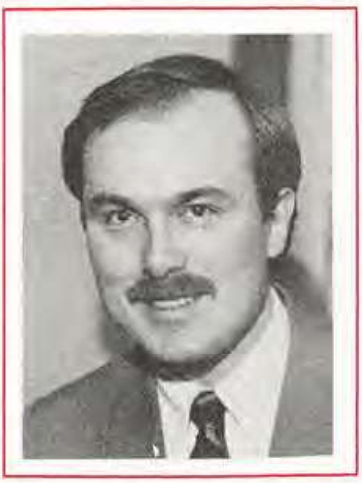
A native of Granite City, IL, Maxvill was an outstanding infielder during his 14-year major league career, 11 of which were spent in a Redbird uniform. During those 14 campaigns, Dal was on four World Series winning teams.

In 1978, after a brief stint away from baseball, Maxvill joined the coaching staff of the New York Mets. He returned to the Cardinals as a coach during the 1979-80 season.

In 1982, Dal became the third base coach of the Atlanta Braves, a position he held until his appointment as general manager of the Cardinals.

The 52-year-old Maxvill and his wife, Diana, are the parents of four children — Kathy (Mrs. Bill Behr), Danny, Jeff and Tim. Kathy is the mother of Kelli Marie Behr, the Maxvill's first grandchild, born in 1986.

VICE PRESIDENT / BUSINESS OPERATIONS
MARK GORRIS



Mark Gorris was named vice president - business operations on January 22, 1990. Gorris coordinates the club's marketing, ticketing, broadcasting and other administrative departments.

Gorris joined the Cardinals on January 1, 1987 after serving as manager of planning for Civic Center Corporation for two years. From 1982 to 1985, he was employed by the Busch Entertainment Corporation.

In December of 1987, Gorris was named vice president of finance and administration, coordinating all financial and administrative functions for the team, including negotiations of the Cardinals' television contracts.

A native of St. Louis, Gorris received his B.S.B.A. degree from Washington University and his M.B.A. from St. Louis University.

In December, 1987, he was named vice president of marketing. As vice president of marketing he is in charge of the Cardinals' sales and promotions efforts. Also included in his activities are advertising, licensing, special events and community relations.

A graduate of University City High School and the University of Missouri-St. Louis, Marty is a past president of the UMSL Alumni Association. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Advertising Club of Greater St. Louis, and also serves on the Downtown St. Louis Inc. Marketing Committee and the St. Louis Symphony Creative Committee. Marty was selected Ad Man of the Year for 1987 by the Advertising Club of Greater St. Louis.

THE MANAGER

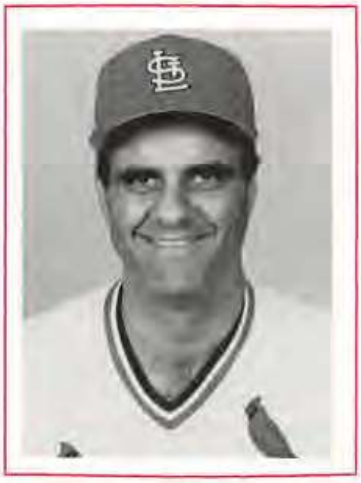
JOSEPH PAUL (JOE) TORRE (9)



Joe Torre, entering his first full season as the Cardinals' manager, has been involved in professional baseball as a player, manager and broadcaster since 1960. Torre was named the Cardinals' manager on August 1, 1990, returning to the organization for which he spent six stand-out seasons as a player. He guided the Cardinals to a 24-34 record after taking over the managerial reigns last season.

Torre broke into the major leagues with the Milwaukee Braves in 1960. In 1961, he finished second to Billy Williams in the National League Rookie of the Year balloting after batting .278 in his first full season. When Torre hit .321 in 1964 for the Braves, he became the first big league catcher in nine years to bat over .300, hit 20 or more home runs and collect at least 100 RBIs.

Prior to the 1969 season, the Braves traded Torre to the Cardinals for Orlando Cepeda on March 17, 1969. With St. Louis, Torre became a solid first and third baseman for a club which featured Tim McCarver and, later, Ted Simmons behind the plate. Torre's best year came in 1971 when he was named the National League's MVP after winning the batting crown with a .363 mark and leading the league with 230 hits and 137 RBIs. The Cardinals traded Torre to the New York Mets on October 13, 1974 for Ray Sadecki and Tommy Moore.

Torre finished his brilliant 18-year playing career with a .297 lifetime average while placing 69th on the all-time hits list with 2,342 hits and 55th with 1,185 RBIs. Joe played in eight All-Star games and was named to nine National League All-Star squads. The Sporting News selected Torre as the catcher for the All-Star team five different years. The only thing that seemed to have escaped Joe's career was a World Series, unlike his brother Frank who played in the 1957 and 1958 Fall Classics with the Braves. Joe also caught Warren Spahn's 300th victory.

Joe made his managerial debut when he was named the Mets' player-manager on May 31, 1977, replacing Joe Frazier. He became the first player-manager in the National League since Solly Hemus guided the Cardinals in 1959. After five seasons at the helm of the Mets, Joe was named Atlanta Braves' manager in 1982 and promptly guided the Braves to a 89-63 record and their first divisional title in 13 years. For his efforts, Joe was named the Associated Press Manager of the Year, making him the first to be designated both the National League's Most Valuable Player by the Baseball Writers Association of America and the National League's top manager by the Associated Press.

Before accepting his current position as the Cardinals' skipper, Torre spent six years as a television broadcaster for the California Angels.

Joe, 50, resides in St. Louis with his wife, Alice. He has three children: Michael (25); Lauren (24) and Tina (21). Torre was born on 7/18/40 in Brooklyn, NY and graduated from St. Francis Prep School in 1958.

THE COACHES

JOE COLEMAN (40)

Joe Coleman is entering his first season as a member of Joe Torre's coaching staff after spending the last nine seasons with the California Angels' organization. Joe was named the Cardinals' pitching coach last October. Before arriving in St. Louis, Joe first served as the Angels' roving minor league pitching coach (1984-87) and then as the major league bullpen coach (1988-90).

At the minor league level, Coleman spent three years with Spokane as a coach (1980-82) and managed the Angels' former class A affiliate Peoria in 1983.

Joe was the Washington Senator's third selection in baseball's first amateur draft in 1965 and was the first player to reach the majors from that draft. During his 15-year major league playing career, Coleman played with seven different clubs and pitched for Detroit in the 1972 American League Championship Series. He set the major legue record (later tied) for a Championship Series by striking out 14 batters in game #3 of the '72 A.L.C.S. Coleman was a two-time 20-game winner and tossed 200 innings eight times, including a career-high 288 in 1973.

Coleman, 44, makes his off-season home in Ft. Myers, FL, with his wife, Donna, and two children, Casey and Kristen. He is the son of former Philadelphia Athletics pitcher Joseph P. Coleman.

DAVE COLLINS (15)

Dave Collins' appointment as the Cardinals' first base coach last October brought to an end a 16-year playing career that began in 1975 with the California Angels and ended with the Cardinals in 1990.

The switch-hitting Collins was originally signed by the California Angels in 1972. Known for his speed on the base-paths, Collins finished with a career total of 395 stolen bases and last year became only the fourth player to steal 150 bases in both the American and National Leagues. Dave, whose career included stints with eight different major league clubs, was used primarily as a late-inning defensive replacement and pinch-runner by the Cardinals last season.

The 38-year-old Collins was born and raised in Rapid City, SD, where he holds the South Dakota state high school record with a 9.6 time in the 100-yard dash. Dave resides in Columbia, IL, with his wife, Sherry and son, Ryan (5/9/90). Dave also has four other children - Kelli (10/16/75), Lindsey (2/14/78), Leah (10/27/80) and David (8/12/87).

RUSSELL "BUCKY" DENT (30)

Bucky was named the Cardinals' third base coach last October after managing the New York Yankees from August 18, 1989 through June 6, 1990.

Prior to joining the Yankees as manager, Dent managed for five seasons in the Yankees' minor league system with Ft. Lauderdale (1985-86) and Columbus (1987-89). In his two-plus seasons as manager at Columbus, Bucky guided the Clippers to a second place finish, two third place finishes and a Governor's Cup title in 1987.

The former infielder was originally drafted by the Cardinals (5th round, 1969 free-agent draft) and began his 13-year career with the Chicago White Sox in 1972. Dent played more than five seasons with the Yankees, appearing in four league Championship Series and three World Series. He was named to the American League All-Star team in 1975, '80 and '81.

In 1978, Dent helped the Yankees win the American League East playoff game with a dramatic three-run homer off Boston's Mike Torrez, and proceeded to hit .417 in the World Series as the Yankees defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers. For his efforts at the plate and at his shortstop position, Dent was named the Series' MVP.

The 39-year-old Dent grew up in the Miami area and earned All-State honors in football at Hialeah High School, before attending Miami Dade North Junior College, where he was an All-American infielder. Bucky resides in Boca Raton, FL with his wife, Mary Ann, and children, Scott Russell (19), and Stacey Lynn (14). He also operates the Bucky Dent Baseball School in Boca Ratan.

In his second tour as a Cardinal coach, Dave has been with the St. Louis club since 1978. He previously had filled the same job in 1974 and '75. As a Cardinal minor league manager in-between, he led Sarasota to a third-place finish in 1976 and had a similar result at Johnson City in 1977.

He originally signed with the Cardinals in 1957 as a catcher, and spent all of the 1967-68-69 seasons with the Redbirds as a back-up catcher and pinch-hitter and appeared in both the 1967 and 1968 World Series. His last season as a player was with Pittsburgh in 1970. He served the Pirates as bullpen coach from 1971 through 1973 but then returned to the Cardinal organization in 1974.

ALBERT FRED "RED" SCHOENDIENST (2)

Schoendienst, who returned to the Redbird coaching ranks in 1979, has been involved in professional baseball for each of the past 49 years. He coached in St. Louis from 1961 to '64 under manager Johnny Keane. He then began a 12-year stint as Cardinal manager, the longest anyone has occupied the position. As manager, he led the Cardinals to National League pennants in 1967 and '68, and the World Championship in 1967. He also served as interim manager of the Redbirds in 1980 and 1990, becoming the first man to manage in four different decades with the same team. "Red" also spent two seasons coaching at Oakland in 1977 and '78.

Schoendienst was a Cardinal player for 14 years. He was an outstanding second baseman and hitter. He played in the 1946 World Series for the Cardinals and in 1957 and '58 for Milwaukee. ATTENDANCE STREAK

The Cardinals drew 2,573,225 paid fans during the 1990 season to Busch Stadium. It marked the ninth year in a row they've passed 2,000,000. It also marked the 28th consecutive year they have passed the 1,000,000 level — the only other team that can make that statement is the Los Angeles Dodgers, who have done it every year since they moved to LA. in 1958

1990 SEASON: Veteran hurler finished his first season in a Cardinal uniform with a 9-8 mark . . . won his St. Louis debut when he defeated his former club, the Montreal Expos, 4-2 on 4/10 at Busch . . . pitched eight solid innings, allowing just one unearned run in 4/25 win at LA . . . the win marked his first career victory at Dodger Stadium . . . Bryn posted a 3-2 mark in May and was 6-6 at the All-Star break . . . was bothered by sore right shoulder through much of June & July and eventually went on the disabled list from 7/28-9/5 when shoulder would not respond to rest . . . finished the season with a 2-0 mark in his final five games after returning from the DL . . . the Cardinals put together a 13-12 mark in the 25 games that Bryn started and they won 6 of his last 8 starts . . . he was 6-4 at home, improving his career mark at Busch to 13-6 . . . struck out a season-high 7 during his 6/3 outing vs the Cubs . . . allowed just 1.9 walks per 9 IP . . . walked two or less in 24 of his 25 starts . . . failed to win 10 games for the first time in six seasons, however he lacked support on occasion, as Cards scored just 9 runs (1.1 RPG) in his eight losses . . . was 5-3 with a 3.09 ERA vs NL West clubs . . . led Cardinal pitchers with 10 hits, 7 RBI and 11 sac. bunts . . . belted a homer on 10/1 at MTL . . . batted .462 (6-for-13) with runners in scoring position . . . failed to pitch a complete game for the first time since 1982 . . . averaged 5.2 IP per start . . . was named 3rd-best control pitcher in the NL according to survey of managers conducted by Baseball America.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: 1981 - Smith was named the pitcher of the year in the American Association . . . it was his first full season at the Class AAA level . . . he was 15-5 at Denver with a 3.05 ERA in 29 appearances, ranking first in wins and fourth in earned-run average . . . his 127 strikeouts in 183 innings ranked second in the A.A. . . . he was the Topps' player of the month for August in the A.A. and the organization's minor league player of the month . . . in August he was 5-0 with a 0.82 ERA in five starts, with three complete games . . . he won his last six decisions in a row and was 13-1 from 5/26 until the end of the season . . . had a 0.98 ERA over his last 65⅓ innings at Denver . . . contract was purchased by the Expos after the A.A. playoffs . . . made his major league debut vs the Phillies on 9/8 and picked up his first major league win on 9/21 in relief against Philadelphia. 1982 - Smith started the season at AAA-Wichita but was re-called to the Expos on 4/30, after posting a 2-0 record and 1.90 ERA in three starts . . . he made 47 appearances for the Expos — 46 in relief — drawing his only starting assignment of the season, vs Steve Carlton at Veterans Stadium on 9/29 . . . picked up his first major league save with 3 shutout innings in a 6-1 win over the Astros on 5/25 . . . beat the Phillies in relief on 8/13 and the Cardinals on 9/7 . . . allowed 4 earned runs in 25⅔ innings (1.40 ERA) in 13 appearances from 8/15-9/15 . . . was third on the Expos in appearances behind Reardon and Fryman. 1983 - There may never have been a happier "victim of circumstances" than Bryn Smith in 1983 . . . by 7/28, Smith had appeared in 35 games all in relief and mostly in middle-relief . . . he was 1-4 with a 2.69 ERA . . . then, on 7/28, left-hander Randy Lerch was released in the morning and veteran Woodie Fryman was injured and out for the season that night . . . with the optioning of lefty Chris Welsh 10 days earlier, that left Dan Schatzeder as the only southpaw on the staff and he immediately was reassigned from the role of 5th starter to bullpen specialist . . . Smith stepped in as the 5th starter and took full advantage of the opportunity . . . in 12 starts from 7/29 until the end of the season, he hurled 5 complete games and 3 shutouts, averaging, 7⅓ innings per outing . . . his first start was a complete game 7-2 win over the Cards on 7/29 . . . his second start was also a complete game win over the Pirates on 8/6 . . . his shutouts were a 6-hitter on 8/29 vs the Giants, a 5-hitter on 9/19 vs the Cards and a 4-hitter on 9/28 in St. Louis . . . Bryn allowed just 1 run in his last 27 innings (0.33 ERA) . . . 6-11 despite a fine 2.49 ERA, he was the victim of three shutouts in his 12 starts . . . struck out a career-high of 9 batters vs the Dodgers on 9/3 . . . had 5 walks and 39 strikeouts in his last 51⅓ innings with no home runs allowed. 1984 - Smith made a career-high 28 starts, most at any level in his 10 professional seasons . . . he tied his career-high of 101 strikeouts set in 1983 . . . had a season high of eight Ks on 6/5 vs the Cubs at Olympic Stadium . . . started the season by winning his first four starts, including a 10-0 shutout of the Mets at Shea . . . had a 2.22 ERA in his first four starts . . . suffered his first loss on 4/28 vs the Cardinals . . . his other shutout was a 5-hitter vs the Braves at Olympic Stadium on 7/17 . . . missed 20 days from 8/7-8/28, with stiffness in his right shoulder . . . received a total of 25 runs in support of his 13 losses — 1.9 runs per game . . . in an unusual statistic, despite finishing 33rd in the N.L. in innings pitched, Bryn led all pitchers in putouts with 25. 1985 - With Charlie Lea disabled and Steve Rogers on the comeback trail, the Expos needed a starting pitcher to step forward and assert himself as a leader . . . Smith did just that, posting a record of 18-5 with 2.91 ERA in 32 starts . . . after six starts, he was 5-0 with 2.01 ERA, including a 6-hit shutout vs the Braves on 5/10 . . . his .783 winning percentage was the best in club history among pitchers with 15 or more decisions . . . the Expos were 23-9 in his starts and Montreal did not lose two Smith starts in a row all year . . . his 18 wins rank third on the club's all-time list behind Ross Grimsley's 20 in 1978 and Steve Rogers' 19 in 1982 . . . 10th in ERA; tied for 6th in wins; 4th in winning percentage . . . one of the keys to his success was control, issuing just 1.66 bases-on-balls per nine innings pitched, fifth in the N.L., trailing only LaMarr Hoyt, Dennis Eckersley, Ed Lynch and John Tudor . . . Bryn had 12 starts in which he did not walk a batter and nine others in which he walked just one . . . he was one of the N.L. leaders in "quality starts", with 25 of 32 starts of 6 or more innings with 3 earned runs or fewer . . . had a pair of five game winning streaks — 4/12-5/10 and again from 6/23-7/24 — a career-high for consecutive wins . . . struck out a career-high 10 batters on 7/9 at ATL, with temperature and humdity in the 90s . . . blanked the Astros on six hits, on 7/19 . . . slammed his first career homer on 8/14 at Wrigley . . . was 5-0 vs the Cubs, 4-0 vs the Braves and 4-0 against PHI . . . received 44 runs in support of his five CHI starts, an average of 8.8 per game . . . finished the season with three straight wins . . . was 11-2 at Olympic Stadium. 1986 - Smith was hampered by a tender right elbow much of the 1986 season, which finally forced him to the sideline on 9/9 . . . a finesse pitcher, Smith's walk ratio rose from 1.7 in '85 to 3.0 in '86 due to the physical problem . . . slammed his second major league homer, 7/5 at ATL vs Craig McMurtry . . . underwent surgery by Dr. Jobe after the season. 1987 - Smith was attempting to come back from surgery to remove bone chips from his right elbow . . . the operation was performed November 20, 1986 by Dr. Frank Jobe in Los Angeles . . . there was some question following the surgery of whether he would be able to pitch at all in 1987 . . . after signing in late February, Bryn began the season on a rehab-option at A-West Palm Beach . . . after four starts in the Florida State League he rejoined the Expos on 5/1 . . . Smith was brought along slowly after rejoining the Expos . . . pitched between 5 and 7 innings in eight of his first nine starts before going the distance with a 5-hitter in his 10th start on 6/17 vs the Mets . . . was 5-2 following the 6/17 start . . . returning from a injury always means struggling for consistency . . . in three starts 5/1, 6/27 and 7/23, he allowed 19 earned runs in 9⅓ innings . . . in his other 23 starts, Bryn was 10-6 with a 3.47 ERA . . . in his last six starts, he was 3-3 with a 2.70 ERA . . . fanned a season high 8 batters on 9/18 vs the Phillies, tossing six shutout innings . . . combined for a shutout vs the Padres on 8/27 . . . cut his walks per 9 innings pitched ratio from 3.0 in 1986 to 1.9 in '87. 1988 - Smith was 12-10, recording 10 or more wins for the fifth straight season, the second longest streak of 10+ wins in club history, to Steve Rogers . . . Rogers won 10 or more for seven straight years from 1977-83 . . . he made 32 starts and had made 151 straight starts since his last relief outing, 9/14/83 . . . fell two innings shy of 200 . . . missed most of the Grapefruit League season with muscle problems in his right forearm and remained in Florida when the team went north, appearing at the minor league camp on 4/5, before rejoining his mates in time for his first start on 4/10. Smith seemed possessed of an uncontrollable urge to throw strikes . . . incredibly he walked just 32 batters in 32 starts . . . he made 12 starts without issuing a base-on-balls, 11 games with just one walk and eight others in which he had two free passes . . . in the one start missing from that total, he walked five Giants on 9/2, but pitched six innings in a 10-0 win . . . in fact, Smith was the starter and beneficiary of three of the four games in which the Expos scored 10 or more runs . . . he led the league in fewest walks (1.4) per 9 innings pitched . . . following Smitty in the under control group were Rick Mahler (1.5), Rick Reuschel (1.5) and Bob Ojeda (1.6) . . . Mr. Consistancy, Smith pitched more than seven innings twice and fewer than six innings just five times in 32 starts . . . his longest winning and losing streak was two games . . . the Expos were 18-14 in his 32 starts . . . in his last seven starts, he was 4-2 with a 1.76 ERA . . . allowed just two homers in his last 87 innings . . . posted an 8-5 record and a 2.02 ERA in his last 19 starts . . . made 11 of 15 starts on the road . . . finished second to Kevin Gross in N.L. in hit batters with 10 . . . was 2-1, 1.32 ERA in July . . . was 7-2 at Olympic Stadium. 1989 - Began his 9th year as an Expo in fine fashion . . . racked-up a 2-0 mark with 2.55 ERA in the season's first month . . . earned his first win on 4/18 with a 11-2 win vs CHI . . . continued to shine in May when he was 3-1 with a 1.64 ERA . . . won three straight decisions, 5/10-26, raising his record for the year to 5-1 with a 1.87 ERA . . . allowed just four hits in 5/21 start vs LA . . . was named Expos' Player of the Month for May . . . allowed just 8 runs and 9 walks in 44 IP during the month . . . pitched back-to-back complete games 5/21 vs LA and 5/26 at SD . . . was 8-3 with a 2.17 ERA in 17 starts prior to the All-Star break . . . his 2.17 ERA at the break was 4th-best among N.L. hurlers . . . had league's 3rd-best ERA (1.96) in July . . . lost five straight decisions 7/30-8/20 . . . Expos plated just 12 runs in those five losses (2.4 avg.) . . . snapped losing streak when he earned his 10th win with a 6-3 victory at SF on 8/27 . . . marked the 6th straight season that Bryn has won 10 or more games . . . ranked 10th in the N.L. with is 2.84 ERA . . . allowed just 2.3 walks/game (10th in N.L.) and 9.8 baserunners per 9 IP (5th) . . . walked three or less in 29 of his 32 starts . . . averaged 6.2 IP per start . . . teamed with Joe Hesketh for a combined shutout 7/14 at CIN . . . held opponents to a .223 BA . . . ranked 8th among N.L. pitchers in fielding pct. TED SIMMONS

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

As Director of Player Development, Ted Simmons has overseen the Cardinals' minor league operations, including scouting and player development, since October, 1988.

The former catcher was the Cardinals' number one selection in the June, 1967, free-agent draft, after playing collegiately at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. He made brief major league appearances in 1968 and '69, before he joined the major league roster for good in 1970. As a Cardinal, Simmons played 10 full seasons, batting more than .300 in six of them and hitting 172 homers, including 26 in 1979 - a record for Cardinals' catchers. His career-high .332 batting average in 1975 was good for 2nd in the National League and 3rd in the majors. Ted was part of a blockbuster trade which sent him to the Milwaukee Brewers along with Rollie Fingers and Pete Vuckovich in exchange for Lary Sorenson, Dave LaPoint, Sixto Lezcano and David Green following the 1980 season.

Simmons made post-season appearances in 1981, when the Brewers lost to the Yankees in the Eastern Division Playoffs, and 1982, when Ted hit two homers in the World Series against his former teammates, the Cardinals. Ted was dealt to the Atlanta Braves prior to the 1986 season and finished his 21-year playing career following the 1988 season. He holds the National League record with 182 home runs by a switch-hitter and has appeared in five All-Star Games.

FARM SYSTEM INSTRUCTORS

MIKE JORGENSEN
HITTING INSTRUCTOR/COORDINATOR

After having spent the 1987-89 seasons as the manager at Louisville, Jorgensen moved into a new role as the Cardinals' coordinator for hitting instruction at the minor league level last season.

Jorgy ended his 15-plus year major league playing career at the end of the 1985 season and was immediately taken on as an instructor in the Cardinals' minor league organization. Midway into the 1986 season, he was named manager at St. Petersburg when Dave Bialas moved up from St. Pete to Louisville to replace Jim Fregosi, who was named manager of the Chicago White Sox. Jorgensen finished out the season at St. Petersburg, where the team finished with the best record in the Florida State League at 88-48.

A lefthanded hitting first baseman-outfielder, Jorgensen was signed originally by the New York Mets out of the June, 1966, free agent draft. He made it to the big leagues with the Mets briefly in 1968 and came up to the majors to stay in 1971. He was traded to the Montreal Expos in 1972 and spent five-plus seasons there. Then he went to the Oakland A's in 1977, to the Texas Rangers in 1978, back to the Mets in 1980, to the Atlanta Braves in 1983 and to the Cardinals in 1984 in a deal with pitcher Ken Dayley in exchange for infielder Ken Oberkfell.

Johnny started his St. Louis career in 1959 as an outfielder, and played in the major leagues with the Cardinals and New York Mets. While with the Mets, he hit a 10th inning homer to break up a no-hitter by the Cincinnati Reds' Jim Maloney in 1965. He retired as a player after the 1968 season.

He worked in the Cardinals' front office as assistant promotions and sales director for two years and was farm system administrative assistant in 1972. He joined the Cardinals' coaching staff in March, 1973, and remained for four years.

He then managed for five years in the minors — at Calgary in 1977 and 1978, at Gastonia in 1979 and at Johnson City in 1980 and 1981.

The 41-year-old former outfielder is a lifetime .298 hitter who played with the Cardinals from 1973-77 and with the Phillies from 1977-1981. Drafted by the Cards in the 37th round in 1970, Bake was voted National League Rookie-of-the-Year in 1974, when he hit .309 and stole 30 bases. He was traded to the Phillies on 6/15/77 for Tommie Underwood, Rick Bosetti and Dane Iorg. McBride helped to take Philadelphia to post-season play in 1978, 79 and 1980. He batted .304 vs the Royals in the 1980 World Series.

THE CARDINALS' WORLD SERIES STORY YEAR-BY-YEAR

1926 The Cardinals defeated the Yankees, four games to three, to win their first world championship. Grover Cleveland Alexander, obtained by the Redbirds in a midseason trade with the Chicago Cubs, won the second and sixth games, then came on to save the seventh.

1928 Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig paced the Yankees to a four-game sweep of the Cardinals. Ruth hit .625 for the Series and had three home runs in one game, and Gehrig had a .545 batting average. Four of Gehrig's six hits were home runs, and he had nine runs-batted-in.

1930 Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cardinals, four games to two, as the Redbirds hit only .200 and the Athletics .197. Cardinal victories were scored by Bill Hallahan, 5-0, in the third game, and Jesse Haines, 3-1, in the fourth.

1931 The Cardinals got revenge on the Athletics, defeating Philadelphia, four games to three. Pepper Martin, the Wild Horse of the Osage, paced the Redbirds, stealing five bases, collecting 12 hits and hitting .500. Bill Hallahan and Burleigh Grimes each pitched two victories for the Cardinals.

1934 The "Gas-House Gang" won the National League pennant on the final day of the season, then defeated Detroit in the Series, four games to three. Dizzy and Paul Dean, who combined to win 49 games during the regular season, each won two games over the Tigers. The final game of the Series, won by the Cardinals, 11-0, was marked by Commissioner K.M. Landis order to eject Joe (Ducky) Medwick from the game. Medwick had collided with Tiger third baseman Marvin Owen in the sixth inning, and his actions so infuriated the Detroit fans that they bombarded Ducky with fruit, vegetables and debris when he went to his position in left field in the seventh inning. Landis removed Medwick to halt the disturbance.

1942 The Cardinals lost the first game of the Series to the Yankees, then roared back to win four straight. Rookie pitcher Johnny Beazley won two games; lefthander Ernie White shut out the Yankees in the third game, and third baseman Whitey Kurowski hit a decisive triple in the second game, then clinched the finale with a two-run home run in the ninth inning.

1943 The Yankees evened their World Series record against the Cardinals at 2-2 as they defeated the Redbirds, four games to one. The key play of the Series occurred in the third game. With the Cardinals holding a 2-1 lead in the eighth inning, Johnny Lindell crashed into Whitey Kurowski at third on a sacrifice bunt and jarred the baseball loose from Kurowski's hand. Billy Johnson then tripled to drive in three runs, the Yankees went on to score five times in the inning and Manager Joe McCarthy's powerhouse coasted to victory. The New York Yankees also won the next two games to take the championship.

1944 In this only all-St. Louis World Series, pitching dominated and the Cardinals defeated the Browns, four games to two. The pitchers struck out a record total of 92 batters, 49 of them by Cardinal moundsmen and 43 by the Browns' hurlers. Emil Verban topped Cardinal hitters with a .412 average.

1946 Harry (The Cat) Brecheen won three games and the Cardinals topped the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. With the score tied 3-3 in the last half of the eighth inning of the seventh game, Enos Slaughter singled, then scored all the way from first on Harry Walker's hit to left center, a sprint that surprised relay man Johnny Pesky of the Red Sox and allowed Slaughter to score the winning run.

1964 A team victory for the Cardinals, who defeated the Yankees, four games to three. Bob Gibson won two games; Ken Boyer hit a grand-slam home run to win the fourth game; Tim McCarver, who topped Cardinal hitters in the Series with a .478 average smashed a 10th inning home run to win the fifth game, and Ron Taylor and Roger Craig contributed valuable relief help.

1967 Bob Gibson pitched three complete-game victories and Lou Brock put on one of the finest offensive displays in World Series history as the Cardinals defeated the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. Gibson limited the Red Sox to only 14 hits in the three games, and Brock topped all Series hitters with a .414 batting average. Lou also set a Series record by stealing seven bases, and Roger Maris hit .385 and drove in seven runs, a Cardinal Series record.

1968 The Cardinals had a three-game-to-one lead, but the Detroit Tigers stormed back to win the last three contests and claim their first world championship in 23 years. Lefthander Mickey Lolich, a motorcycle enthusiast who played in the shadow of 31-game winner Denny McLain all year, was superb for the Tigers as he won three games, including the 4-1 finale. Bob Gibson won two games for the Redbirds, and set records by striking out 17 batters in the first game and a total of 35 for the Series, breaking the mark of 31 he set against the Yankees in 1964.

1982 The Cardinals came back from a 3-2 deficit in games to defeat the Milwaukee Brewers and bring the World Series Championship Trophy back to St. Louis for the first time in 15 years. Joaquin Andujar nailed down two victories and posted a 1.35 ERA while Bruce Sutter was credited with one win and two saves. John Stuper became only the 14th rookie to start two World Series games, winning the crucial sixth game for the Redbirds in a rain delayed contest that took five hours to complete. Dane Iorg batted .529 and tied a series record for most hits by a designated hitter. Rookie Willie McGee turned heads by hitting two home runs and making two spectacular catches in one game. Darrell Porter was named MVP on the strength of his timely hitting and solid defense.

1985 The Cardinals won the National League Championship series after losing the first two games to the Los Angeles Dodgers, then taking four straight games (the final one climaxed by a 3-run, 9th inning homer by Jack Clark). In the World Series, they won the first two games on the road at Kansas City, then lost four of the next five games when their hitting deserted them. The pitching of John Tudor and Todd Worrell took the first game, and Terry Pendleton's ninth inning double with the bases loaded gave them a 4-2 victory the next day. Kansas City won its first game, 6-1, behind Brett Saberhagen, then lost Game No. 4 to Tudor, 3-0. Danny Jackson stopped the Redbirds, 6-1. Key game was No. 6, when the Cardinals carried a 1-0 lead into the ninth inning. The first Kansas City man up in the ninth reached first on a bad call by an umpire, and the Royals then went on to score twice to win, 2-1. Game No. 7 was no contest—it went to the Royals, 11-0.

1987 After coming back from a 3-2 deficit to win the National League Championship Series against San Francisco, the Cardinals got off to a slow start by dropping their first two games of the World Series at Minnesota. Upon returning to Busch Stadium for game #3, the Redbirds used a three-run seventh and strong pitching by John Tudor to cut the deficit to 2-1. The next night saw utility infielder Tom Lawless, who was filling in for the injured Terry Pendleton, lead the Cards to a 7-2 win with a three-run homer in the fourth. The round-tripper by Lawless was just the second of his major league career and it evened the series at 2-2. The Cardinals completed their sweep at home with a 4-2 win in Game #5, as both Vince Coleman and Ozzie Smith each stole two bases. Todd Worrell earned his second save of the Series in relief of winner Danny Cox. The Cardinals took a 5-2 lead into the 5th inning of Game #6, but homers by Don Baylor and Kent Hrbek carried the Twins to a 11-5 come-from-behind win and sent the Series to a seventh and deciding game. Series MVP Frank Viola allowed only two runs in the second inning and the Twins Greg Gagne broke a 2-2 tie with an infield single in the 6th inning, as Minnesota won its' first World Championship with a 4-2 win in Game #7. The Series was the first ever in which the home team won each of the seven games.

1957 Musial established a National League endurance record when he extended his streak of consecutive games played to 895 before an injury forced him to the bench. He won the batting title with a .351 average.

1958 Musial, pinch-hitting in the sixth inning, collected a double against the Cubs at Wrigley Field in Chicago on May 13, and that dramatic blow was the 3,000th hit of his career.

On May 12, they opened the new Busch Memorial Stadium in downtown St. Louis by defeating the Atlanta Braves, 4-3, in 12 innings. The winning run scored when Lou Brock singled with the bases loaded, driving in Curt Flood. The winning pitcher was Don Dennis, the loser Phil Niekro. He set a World Series strikeout record with 17 in the first game against Detroit. His remarkable season earned him the National League's Cy Young Award and he was also named MVP.

1969 On September 15, Steve Carlton struck out 19 New York Mets in a nine inning game to set a major league record. He lost the game, 4-3, as Ron Swoboda hit a pair of two-run homers. He struck out at least one man in every inning and fanned the side in four different innings. His record was tied in 1970 by New York's Tom Seaver. The surface at Busch Stadium is changed from grass to artificial turf.

1970 Gibson had a 23-7 record and received his second National League Cy Young Award.

1971 Torre wins batting title with .363 average and is named MVP. Gibson pitches his first no-hitter, beating the Pirates, 11-0, on August 14. Cardinals draw 50,000,000th fan since 1900.

1979 Lou Brock collected his 3000th career hit (single off Dennis Lamp) in the 4th inning against the Cubs on August 13 at Busch Stadium. On September 23, Brock stole his 938th base making him baseball's all-time stolen base leader surpassing William (Sliding Billy) Hamilton. Keith Hernandez wins batting title with .344 average and is co-winner of National League M.V.P. award with Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell. Garry Templeton led N.L. with 211 hits. Templeton also led the league in triples with 19, for the third year in a row, setting a new N.L. record and tying the major league mark. His 19 triples are highest number since 1957. He became the first switch-hitter in major league history to collect 100 hits, both right and left-handed, in one season. Garry finished with 100 hits RH and 111 hits LH. On October 24, Herzog assumed dual role of general manager and field manager.

1981 The Cardinals finished the season with the best winning percentage in the Eastern Division, but missed the playoffs because they finished second in each of the two sections of the schedule caused by the mid-summer players' strike. The Philadelphia Phillies, leaders when the strike began, were voted the first-half championship (however, the Phillies, Cardinals, and Cincinnati Reds voted against it), while Montreal won the second half. In each half, the Cardinals played fewer games than the "winners", and could have tied or won either half with the opportunity to play the same number of games. In the individual field, Bruce Sutter, one of several players obtained in winter trades by Herzog, was the National League's top reliever, winning the Rolaids Relief Man award.

1982 In order to concentrate more on his managing duties, Whitey Herzog stepped down as General Manager on Opening Day, turning the reins over to Joe McDonald. The move paid off as the Cardinals were out of first place for only 48 days of the season and claimed their first ever National League East Championship. A 3-0 sweep of the Atlanta Braves put the Cards in their 13th World Series against the Milwaukee Brewers who fell 4-3 to St. Louis in the 'Fall Classic.' The 1982 team was characterized by an aggressive running style of baseball; seven players stole bases in the double figures, led by team catalyst Lonnie Smith who swiped 68. The team hit only 67 home runs, the fewest in the major leagues. Strong and consistent pitching performances were the rule; prior to clinching the title the Cardinals never lost more than three games in a row. Bruce Sutter had a hand in almost half of the team's victories.

1983 Despite the fact that the 1983 Cardinals finished in fourth place, eleven games out, the team was competitive and exciting, although inconsistent, throughout much of the season. The team climbed to within ½ game of the division lead on September 5 before embarking on a thirteen-day road trip during which the failure of the starting rotation caused the team to plummet out of contention. Still there were noteworthy performances during the year. As a team, the running Redbirds set a new club record with 207 stolen bases. Individually, Danny Cox made his way from extended spring training in April to playing a part in the Cardinals' starting rotation. Bob Forsch pitched the second no-hitter of his career. The league's best right-fielder, George Hendrick, moved to first base after Keith Hernandez was traded and earned post-season honors at his new position. Ozzie Smith won his fourth straight Gold Glove and Willie McGee won his first one.

1984 The Cardinals got off to a bad start in 1984 and dwelled in fifth place for much of the first half of the season before turning things around after the All-Star break. Following the mid-summer classic the Cards posted a 42-33 record, second in the National League only to the eventual N.L. Champions, the Chicago Cubs. That surge lifted the Cards into a third place finish in the division at year end despite contending with many injuries. . . The team's 220 stolen bases set a new club record, surpassing the 207 mark from 1983, and made them the first major league team since the 1916 St. Louis Browns to steal 200 or more bases three years in a row. . . Individually, Bruce Sutter set a National League and tied the major league record for saves in a season (45). Joaquin Andujar (20-14) became the club's first 20-game winner in seven seasons. Rookie Terry Pendleton hit .324 after joining the club in July and sparking the team to a 41-29 record. . . The Cards drew over 2,000,000 fans for the third consecutive year.

1985 The Cardinals lost their first four games, struggled to 7-7, then lost four more. The next time they reached .500 it was at 20-20, and then things got better. They finally made it to first place on June 21, and they were there most of the season. Five defeats in six games early in September left the Cardinals a game behind the New York Mets with 25 to play. But the Redbirds then won 14 of their next 15 and took the division title by three games with 101 victories. Individually, Willie McGee was the batting champion (at .353, a new high for a N.L. switch-hitter) and Most Valuable Player; Vince Coleman was Rookie of the Year with 110 stolen bases and a batting average of .267; Whitey Herzog was Manager of the Year, and John Tudor and Joaquin Andujar each won 21 games and Danny Cox took 18. Willie McGee and Ozzie Smith won Gold Gloves again, and great starts by Tommy Herr (110 RBI) and Jack Clark (22 homers) contributed.

1986 The defending National League Champions stumbled at the beginning of the season. After the first two months of the season the Cardinals had the worst record in the League. But the team righted itself posting winning records in each of the next four months to finish third in the National League's Eastern Division. . . Individually Vince Coleman stole 107 bases to become the first player ever to steal over 100 bases in each of his first two seasons and the first N.L. player to ever steal 100 bases twice; left-handed rookie pitcher Greg Mathews, who was promoted from Louisville, won 11 games in little more than half a season; Ozzie Smith won his seventh straight gold glove and Todd Worrell was named 1986 N.L. Rookie of the Year. Worrell blazed his way to a major league rookie record 36 saves, becoming the first rookie pitcher ever to lead the league in saves and the first rookie to earn N.L. Relief Pitcher of the Year honor. . Three attendance milestones were hit and surpassed during the course of the season. The Cardinals reached the two million mark for the fifth consecutive year, drew the 75 millionth fan in the history of the franchise since 1900 and drew the 50 millionth fan to see the Redbirds play under Anheuser-Busch ownership.

1987 Sparked by a potent offense, the Cardinals slipped no further than two games back in the N.L. East standings and claimed sole possession of first place on May 22. Beset by injuries to several key players throughout the season, manager Whitey Herzog made use of a mixture of experienced veterans and eager rookies to fill the voids left by injury. The Cardinals extended their lead to 9½ games on July 23 but saw the lead shrink to 1½ games as late as Sept. 19. A come-from-behind win at New York on Sept. 11 followed by a doubleheader sweep of the Expos on Sept. 29, set the stage for the pennant clinching win over Montreal on Oct. 1. Several Cards enjoyed banner seasons offensively, including Vince Coleman (third straight season with 100 SB), Jack Clark (35 HR and 106 RBI), Ozzie Smith (.300 BA for first time in his career), Terry Pendleton (.286 BA and 96 RBI), Willie McGee (105 RBI). The Redbirds had four starters with 10 or more victories (John Tudor, Bob Forsch, Greg Mathews and Danny Cox) while rookie Joe Magrane showed much promise in his initial season. In the bullpen, Todd Worrell followed up his impressive rookie season with 33 saves and Ken Dayley overcame serious elbow surgery to post nine wins in relief. . . 1987 was a fantastic year at the gate as well, as the Cardinals drew a Major League leading 3,072,122 fans, becoming just the third club in M.L. history to surpass the three million mark in attendance.

1988 The defending National League Champions struggled with injuries and a lack of offense in the early part of the season and were never able to rebound. After acquiring Tom Brunansky in an April trade with Minnesota, the Redbirds climbed back to within six games of first on June 12, but injuries to Bob Horner and Terry Pendleton crippled the offense and the Cardinals dropped 19 games off the pace by the end of July. Several Redbirds enjoyed fine seasons in 1988, including newcomer Jose DeLeon, who became the first Cards pitcher since 1972 to record 200 strikeouts. Sophomore hurler Joe Magrane won the N.L. ERA title with a 2.18 mark despite winning just 5 games. Todd Worrell posted his third-straight 30-save season and speedster Vince Coleman led the league in stolen bases for the 4th straight year. The '88 campaign also marked the emergence of Scott Terry, Tom Pagnozzi and Jose Oquendo as prominent everyday players, while rookie reliever John Costello proved valuable out of the bullpen. Oquendo became the first N.L. player since 1918 to play all nine positions in a season and became the club's regular second baseman mid-way thru the season. Trades that brought such names as Pedro Guerrero, Denny Walling and Brunansky to St. Louis also ended long-time affiliations with departed players Tom Herr, Bob Forsch and John Tudor. The turnstyles continued to click in '88, as the Cardinals drew nearly 2.9 million fans to Busch Stadium despite their 5th place finish.

1989 Although the season outlook was dismal due to injuries that crippled the Cardinal pitching staff in spring training, Herzog's club remained in the race until the final week of the season. The Redbirds pulled to within a half game of the division leading Chicago Cubs after winning a dramatic come-from-behind game on September 9, however an untimely 6-game losing streak followed that win and the Cards sunk to third place on the final day of the season. The Cards suffered through an erratic season offensively, however Mr. RBI - Pedro Guerrero - was spectacular. Guerrero led the club in RBI (117) and BA (.311), and batted a remarkable .406 with runners in scoring position. Jose Oquendo and Milt Thompson had fine seasons with the bat, each setting several personal career highs. Vince Coleman again led the N.L. in stolen bases, and established a major league record for consecutive stolen bases without being caught. The pitching staff, which was of great concern at the outset, enjoyed a fine season. Joe Magrane (18 wins) and Jose DeLeon (16) spearheaded the patched-up starting unit, while rookie Ken Hill showed promise after being pressed into duty following the rash of injuries. The bullpen by committee was again at work as Ken Dayley, Frank DiPino, John Costello and Dan Quisenberry filled in for the injured Todd Worrell. The Cardinals set a new club attendance record attracting 3,080,980 fans during a season that ended on a sad note when long-time club president August A. Busch, Jr. died at the age of 90, ending an era that St. Louis fans would never forget.

1990 The Cardinals suffered through hard times during the decade's initial season. Thought by many to be a contender following the spring training "lockout", the Cardinals never matched those expectations and finished in last place for the first time since 1918. Untimely hitting and the lack of consistent pitching doomed the Cardinals from the outset and on July 5 Manager Whitey Herzog announced his resignation after more than 10 years as the Cards' skipper. Red Schoendienst managed the club on an interim basis until August 2, when Joe Torre was named the Redbirds' new manager. Willie McGee led the league in batting (.335), but was traded in late August, as the Cardinals made a move to bring aboard younger players. One of those rookies was catcher Todd Zeile. He led the Cardinals in homers (15). John Tudor, making a comeback from various injuries, led the club in wins (12), but announced his retirement following the season. Vince Coleman led the National League in steals for the 6th consecutive season and posted a career-high .292 batting average. Starting pitchers Jose DeLeon (league-high 19 losses) and Joe Magrane (17 losses) were disappointments, however, reliever Lee Smith (27 saves) was a steady closer following his acquisition in May. Jose Oquendo set a Major League record for fewest errors by a second baseman, but the Cardinals' overall defense suffered many lapses throughout the season. Season attendance and fan support was still remarkable, as the Cardinals finished 3rd in the National League attendance rankings, despite the club's poor showing.

CARDINALS' BROADCASTING — 1991

RADIO

KMOX-Radio, St. Louis, will once again be the flagship station for a network of approximately 135 stations covering eleven states, broadcasting all 1991 games with commentary by Jack Buck and Mike Shannon.

TELEVISION

KPLR (Channel 11), St. Louis, will televise 78 Cardinal games locally, including 14 home games, and selected games will be fed to a network of approximately 40 stations covering eight states.

CARDINALS' BROADCASTERS

JACK BUCK

Jack Buck has kept baseball fans spellbound with his diction and quick wit since he joined the Cardinals' broadcasting team in 1954. Buck was paid the ultimate compliment for his skills in 1987 when he was inducted into the broadcast wing of Baseball's Hall of Fame, as the Ford C. Frick Award winner. Buck was inducted into the Broadcaster's Hall of Fame last November.

The native of Holyoke, MA, who received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio State, got his start in baseball broadcasting the play-by-play for St. Louis' minor league clubs at Columbus and Rochester.

Jack, KMOX's sports director, has been involved at one time or another in the broadcasting of almost every sports event imaginable. He has received much acclaim for his work as the voice of the National Football League and also handled the first telecast of the old American Football League. Last year, Jack joined the CBS-TV team for their National Game of the Week and post-season coverage.

MIKE SHANNON

Mike Shannon enters his 20th season in the Cardinals' broadcast booth. His nine years as a Cardinal player and one-year in the front office of the Redbirds gives Mike a unique insight to his commentary and color, which is only heightened by his zeal for the game.

The 51-year-old native of St. Louis first made it to the big leagues in 1962 and went on to star on the Cardinals' World Championship teams of 1964 and 1967 and their National League pennant winner in 1968.

Mike joined the Cardinals front office as assistant director of promotions and sales in 1971. His career had been cut short in 1970 by nephritis, a rare kidney disease.

JOE BUCK

After having spent the past two seasons serving as the play-by-play voice of the Louisville Redbirds, Joe Buck, the son of Jack Buck, will this season be handling broadcast duties for the Cardinals.

Joe, 21, has been working at KMOX radio in St. Louis and has also worked for KHTR radio in St. Louis. In 1989, Joe worked as a reporter for ESPN during its coverage of the Triple-A All-Star game. Cardinals' broadcasts are nothing new to Joe. He often times filled in for Jack when he was away on assignment.

Joe is a graduate of Country Day High School in St. Louis and he is currently purusing degrees in communication and English at Indiana University.

AL HRABOSKY

Al Hrabosky has made a smooth transition, going from one of St. Louis' best loved athletes as "the Mad Hungarian" of the Cardinals' bullpen of the 1970s to one of the town's favorite broadcasters.

Hrabosky's fast rise in the broadcasting field comes as no surprise. During his 13-year major league career, which saw Al pileup 97 career saves and earn Fireman of the Year honors in 1975, he was already preparing himself for broadcasting by working as a sportscaster for a St. Louis TV station.

BUSCH STADIUM
1966 - 1991

In the mid-1950s, several years after he persuaded the board of directors of Anheuser-Busch to purchase the St. Louis Cardinals, August A. Busch, Jr. realized that if the team was to continue to prosper and attract the number of fans necessary to support a Major League Baseball team, it would be necessary to move the team to a new stadium in the St. Louis area.

Mr. Busch took his idea — a new stadium in downtown St. Louis — to city officials and civic leaders. Because of their interest in a major redevelopment of the downtown area and the realization that a new stadium could serve as a focal point of the project, work began to lay the groundwork for a stadium.

In 1964, ground was broke and on May 12, 1966, Busch Stadium, the home of the St. Louis Cardinals, officially opened with the Cardinals defeating the Atlanta Braves, 4-3, in a 12-inning game.

Looking back over the stadium's 25-year past, it is clear that Mr. Busch and others involved in the stadium project were accurate in anticipating a new stadium would spur a rebirth of downtown St. Louis.

Since it opened, Busch Stadium became the focal point of an extensive redevelopment effort which has resulted in millions of dollars in new office buildings, hotels, shopping complexes, parking garages and other facilities, including the Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum.

Busch Stadium is owned and operated by Civic Center Corporation, a subsidiary of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. Anheuser-Busch was originally the single largest contributor to the privately-financed stadium and purchased the remaining share of stock in 1981.

Since the Cardinals defeated the Braves in that first game, more than 47 million people have attended 1,919 games at Busch Stadium (through 1990).

Civic Center Corporation has made a number of improvements to Busch Stadium since it was acquired in 1981, improvements intended to add to the entertainment experience of fans attending Cardinals' baseball games.

One of the most recent improvements was the installation of a state-of-the-art sound system. Other improvements that have been made include the replacement of the seats, installation of a closed circuit television monitoring system which permits fans to watch the action while visiting the concession stands, a new metal halide lighting system, expansion of the deluxe boxes and the addition of new concession stands as well as the renovation of the existing stands.

One of the first improvements made by Civic Center Corporation was the installation of a new scoreboard system which features a 22' by 30' color video board and a black and white board with animation capabilities.

Busch Stadium's basic structure is concrete with the exception of the moveable seating sections, which are steel. The nearly circular structure has an outside diameter of more than 800 feet, covering an area of more than 12 acres.

Busch Stadium is basically a two-deck stadium with approximately half the seats in each deck. Seats completely surround the playing field with no posts or columns to obscure the fans' view.

The playing field at Busch Stadium is from 10 to 30 feet lower than the surrounding streets. Spectators move from the entrance level either up or down to the seating areas. There are eight major entrances.

Divide the number of at-bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING AN EARNED-RUN-AVERAGE:
Multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take the number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

TRADING REGULATIONS:
Trades may be made with any other major league club in the period from the end of the championship season through July 31 without waivers. Waivers are required, however:

1. If the assignment is to another major league club: From August 1 to the end of the season.
2. If assignment is to a minor league club, with right of recall, at any time after 3 years from the date the player first reported to a major league club during a championship season.
3. If assigned to a minor league club without right of recall, after acquiring 3 years service: At any time during the year.
4. If assigned to a minor league club, without right of recall, at any time prior to acquiring three years of service, special waivers are required between September 1 and the opening of the following season. If player is claimed, request may be withdrawn. If no claims are made, club has 7-day period in which to make assignment to minor leagues.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A "ROOKIE":
A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

CONSECUTIVE-GAME HITTING STREAK:
A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all the player's plate appearances result in a walk, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

CONSECUTIVE-GAME PLAYING STREAK:
A consecutive-game playing streak shall extend if the player plays one half-inning on defense, or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance only shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from a game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

RULES OF INTEREST

DOCTORED BAT: If a filled or "doctored" bat is used, the player is to be called out and ejected from the game and is subject to additional penalties. Any balls hit by an illegal bat do not count. If the umpire sees the illegal bat before it is used, he issues a warning, but there is no penalty.

NIGHT GAME: Any game scheduled to start after 5 P.M. will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at 5 P.M. and is delayed for any reason it will be considered a day game. If a game is scheduled to start at 5:01 P.M. it will be considered a night game. Twi-night double-headers shall be considered two night games.

PINCH-HITTERS: A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and only on his first time at bat which must be before he becomes a fielder. If the team bats around and a pinch-hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch-hitter during that second time up.

SUSPENDED GAME RULE: For the purpose of this rule, all performances in the completion of a suspended game shall be considered as occurring on the original date of the game.

A game terminated by curfew or by a prearranged time limit is a suspended game if it has progressed to be an official game (4 1/2 or 5 innings).

A game terminated by light failure or malfunction of mechanical field device under control of the home club is a suspended game anytime after it begins.

Rule 4.11 (d)...A called game ends at the moment the umpire terminates play; EXCEPTION: If the game is called while an inning is in progress and before it is completed, the game becomes a suspended game in each of the following situations:

(1) The visiting team has scored one or more runs to tie the score and the home team has not scored.

(2) The visiting team has scored one or more runs to take the lead and the home team has not tied the score or retaken the lead.

Suspended games shall be resumed at the exact point of suspension immediately preceding the next scheduled, single game between the two clubs at the same site.

Any legal game called due to weather with the score tied is a tie game and must be replayed in its entirety.

WAIVER AND DRAFT PRICES: The waiver price is $20,000 and the Major League Draft price is $50,000.

YEARS OF SERVICE: 172 days constitute a full major league year of service.

FREE AGENCY DRAFT SUMMARY

Major League and National Association clubs meet once a year for the purpose of drafting free agent player talent. Meetings are conducted by conference phone. Selection of a free agent entitles the club to exclusive right of negotiation with that player from the date of selection until 10 days prior to next draft. Clubs choose in inverse order of major league standings, selecting free agents and previous draftees who had not signed contracts but had instead enrolled in four-year colleges and since had either completed his junior year or become 21 years of age. Each organization may select only one player for each of its major league, AAA or AA rosters, but is not limited to the number of picks for "A" level. Minor league clubs select in the same relative order as their parent clubs.
